Dads Day Was Big Event in College Program

More Than 300 Fathers of the Students Enjoyed Campus Activities and Helped to Defeat the Bears.

Three hundred dads from sixty Missouri towns and three states outside Missouri were at the College Friday, October 18, for Dads' Day. In the morning, the fathers registered in Social Hall. At noon, a dinner was served at Residence Hall, at the Methodist Church, South, and the Christian Church. In the afternoon, the Dads went to the football game with their sons and daughters and helped cheer the Bears and the Reserves to two victories. One father was here from Oklahoma, having traveled a distance of six hundred miles to be present. About ten Dads were here from Iowa. Still another came from Nebraska to take part in the day's activities.

At Residence Hall Banquet, Dr. Hake presided, and Gordon Trotter delivered the student address of welcome. Miss Winfrey spoke for the faculty. Mr. Colbert was toastmaster at the Christian Church Banquet. Dr. Jessie Miller, President of the Board of Regents, gave a talk in behalf of the faculty. Violette Hunter gave the student message of welcome. The banquet at the Methodist Church, South was presided over by Mr. Cook. Wiley Poleson gave a message of welcome on behalf of the students.

Newman Club Gives Steak Fry at House

The Newman Club house members entertained themselves with a steak fry Tuesday evening, October 22, at the club house. The weather was unfavorable for having it in the park as it was planned, so they turned it into a "family dinner" and a very sociable evening resulted.

Later in the evening, while all were sitting around the fire place the brownies appeared and supplied each person with marshmallows which he toasted over the glowing coals.

Those present were: Misses Katherine Frankon, Margaret Franken, Mary Pistole, Lora Tudder, Nellie Clayton, Hilda Hofflin, Natalie Keefe, Georgia Belle Moorhead, Alfretha Latimer, Lucille Shenkel, and Katherine Moore.

WELCOME! HOMECOMERS

Old friends, who are playing hosts now, just as you have done on former homecoming days, welcome you back—not to our campus but to yours, not to our school but to your school. We feel that you are a part of this College more than the walls themselves. It is you who have laid the foundations of achievement and built the towers of ideals.

Memories, renewed friendships, those are the reasons for homecoming. "Do you remember—" is heard on every hand. Do you suppose we can find our initials on the birches? Don't you remember that we carved them there the Sunday afternoon before we graduated? Doesn't it look strange not to see the old brick smokestack? I could never forget our class play.

When we who are here to join your ranks and return on homecoming days we hope to find that something we have left behind is making our college a better place.

Former students may you have a joyous homecoming; and visitors may you too have a happy time in our midst. —Sarah Moore

College Librarians Attend State Meet

Mr. C. E. Wells, librarian of the College attended the meeting of the State Library Association held at Jefferson City, Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, October 17, 18, and 19. He was accompanied on the trip, which was made by automobile by Mr. Wright of Kansas City, and on the return trip by Misses Miller and Deming of St. Joseph, and Miss Brumbaugh, assistant to Mr. Wells in the College Library here.

At this meeting, which was a gathering of librarians from all over the state, a campaign was started to make an amendment in the state constitution providing for a separate taxing unit for public and county libraries, much the same as is done for schools. The purpose of this campaign according to Mr. Wells, is to insure the proper use of funds voted for this purpose.

Besides attending business sessions, those at the meeting had the privilege of hearing a speech by the Governor especially for this meeting, and later, of attending a reception at the Governor's mansion. Furthermore the group was taken through the capitol building by the head decorator, who explained to them the significance of the murals and other art works.

Mr. Wells added that he had the privilege of seeing George Robb Ellison, Maryville's member of the supreme court commission, at work, and that he heard favorable comment on the work of Fred Hull, Martin Lewis, Jr. and Townsend Godsey, also of Maryville. Mr. Lewis and Mr. Godsey were formerly students of the State Teachers College.

Members of W.A.A. Attend "Play Day"

Six members of the College W. A. A., accompanied by Miss Elizabeth Jack, motored to Warrensburg, Friday, Oct. 18, to attend a "Play Day" given in honor of the W. A. A. of the State Teachers College.

Saturday morning, from 9:00 to 10:00, the visitors were organized into color squads and these squads had their choice of playing basketball, tennis, soccer, volleyball, or hockey at intervals of the day.

At the banquet given for them that evening, each representation gave a stunt. The Maryville girls presented a drama entitled, "When Mother Was a Girl."

A dance Saturday night served as a climax for the occasion and all departed for their respective schools with the determination to produce still better and more active organizations of the Women's Athletic Associations on their campuses.

Wendell Culp and Orlo Smith went home with their folks to visit over the week-end.

Dan Blood was at home in Stanberry this week end.

Clinton Morris, a sophomore at the College, was ill at his home in Rosendale several days last week. He returned to school Thursday, October 17.

GREETINGS TO OUR VISITORS

Every year the College faculty and students look forward to the time when old students as well as new friends come to Maryville to the Association. It means renewed life and interest and enthusiasm to meet those who are out doing the things we are talking about here. It means that we can do better work because you have been here, and we hope you can look back to the days which you spend here as days of profit and perpetual joy.

We are glad you have come!

Students Visit Penitentiaries, State Hospitals

High School and College Sociology Students Under Mr. Mehms Made Trip Tuesday.

A general knowledge of the activities being carried on in Missouri and Kansas state and federal institutions has been gained by the thirty-two students, who, as the sociology students under O. Myking Mehms, made a visit Tuesday to the state hospital at St. Joseph, the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, the state penitentiary at Lansing, and the institute for women.

The party included fifty-one persons altogether, twenty college students studying social problems, and twelve students in the high school department studying American problems. The remainder of the party included non-class personages. Mr. Mehms accompanied the group.

While the majority of college students were still sleeping this group assembled at the administration building at 6 o'clock in the morning, and by 8 o'clock were in St. Joseph.

The Maryville student delegation was personally escorted thru the State Hospital for the Insane by the superintendent. An extensive trip was made thru the several wards, into the dining halls, the kitchen, the power plant, greenhouse, laundry, beauty parlor, and work shops.

With 2400 patients under state care in this institution, with the large number of buildings to upkeep, and with the vast quantity of materials and feed required for its welfare, there was not one member of the party who had reason to doubt the figure given out by the superintendent that it takes $1600 daily to keep the state hospital in operation.

There are many impressions to be gained from a tour of the St. Joseph institution for the state's insane, and probably the most impressive is the happiness of the patients. They can smile and work and like it. Visitors are welcome by them. They hail visitations by outside persons with the same amount of joy that a group of children receive the beginning of the summer vacation period.

The industry of the patients is another impressive factor. Although documented they show a reasonable amount of skill, some unusually, in the making of rugs, artificial flowers, clothing, brooms, mats, and other articles which

OUR CAMPUS

It is not necessary to go to the Ozarks to see some of the most beautiful scenery in Missouri—it is on our campus. Perhaps some seeing such beauty every day think it is commonplace; others discover some new hidden charm. A stroll up the long walk almost any day this fall is as good as a trip.

The birches have been converted into a fountain; showering gold on all sides. A view from the fourth story window reveals a world of color—dainty joyous green of poplars, dark, whispering, mysterious green of pines, crimson and orange of sugar maples in the park, gold of chestnut, birch and elm, silver of Russian olives.

The trees seem to represent all kinds of characteristics; the chestnuts seem a friendly sociable group of common folk; the poplars, tall, stately, graceful, view the College with a kingly reserve; the elms are the soldiers keeping guard along the walk.

Sunshine makes our campus radiant, mist makes it mysterious, and moonlight makes it a fairyland.

helps in making the institution partly self-supporting.

Eating time at the state hospital is consuming time. Every time the patients are served eggs the consumption is 4000 eggs, and every time pie is on the menu 600 pies are consumed.

The party of students left St. Joseph at 9:30 o'clock and at 11:30 o'clock arrived at Leavenworth. At 1 o'clock persons in groups of twenty were escorted through a portion of the federal penitentiary. Men who have committed crimes such as the narcotic trade, violation of prohibition, robbery of the United States mails, all of which intrude upon national laws, are sentenced to terms at the federal penitentiary.

The students were requested to march through the penitentiary corridors double-breast. They were under close guard as the federal authorities take no chances.

They were shown the long tiers of cells, a group of prisoners in the mess hall, the auditorium and chapel, and the work shops. But they were not taken through the federal penitentiary as always hurried.

At Lansing, a short drive from Leavenworth, the students visited the state penitentiary for men. This trip was extensive. They were shown the dormitories, work shops, mess hall, kitchen, mine shaft, print shop, and other sections of the institution.

The students were able to observe at once that the prisoners are treated well, that they are prisoners within a modern institution, and have the advantages that prisoners should have under good management.

The last place to be visited was the women's institution about a mile from the state penitentiary. This institute takes in girls, afflicted with disease and cares for them until the medical authorities of the institute see fit to order release. The girls are not sentenced to the institute, but are under its care until public authorities see fit to let them go. There are women at the institute who have committed crime and are under sentence.

The students were shown through by the chief matron who gave an explanation of the institute's activities.

Social Science Club Elects New Officers

The Social Science Club met and organized Wednesday afternoon, October 23. The following officers were elected to serve for the rest of the fall and the winter quarters: President, Doyle Smith; vice-president, Mary Cugley; secretary, Margaret Connor; treasurer, Mrs. Doughty.

The next meeting is to be held Thursday, November 7, at 7:30 p. m. The program is to be planned by Mr. Foster, Bernadine Yaden, and Irma Goyor. There are seventeen members of the club at present.

"M" Club Will Sponsor Dance Friday Night

The "M" Club held its final initiation for the six pledges who have been going about the campus adorned in football helmet, carrying footballs, and wearing a paddle suspended from a cord around their necks. Those receiving the final initiation were: Nolan Bruce, Robert Dowell, Walter Dowell, Robert Hodge, Frank Moore, and Marion Search.

The "M" Club is sponsoring a dance Friday night, October 25, at the College west library. Everybody is invited. Ladies are admitted free. Tickets for men are seventy-five cents. Everybody is ask to come and enjoy themselves. Ted Breedlove's orchestra will provide the music.

DEBATE NOTES

The members of the debate squad, who are working on the question for the debate with Oxford University, are setting to work this week with renewed energy. A permanent squad of twelve active members work on the question up until the time of the debate is the aim of the forensics council and Mr. Miller, the debate coach.

The exact statement of the Kappa Phi Delta question for the season has been announced. It is, "Resolved, that the nations should adopt a plan of complete disarmament excepting such forces as are needed for police purposes." Work on this question will probably be started shortly before the Oxford debate.

Two accidents have slightly hampered the work of the debate squad. Wilbur Heekin had his shoulder broken during a freshman rush on Walkout Day. The broken bone is now healing satisfactorily, but for a time it retarded his efforts to some extent.

Mrs. Kahla Ford was in an automobile accident Friday, October 18, in which her right wrist was broken. The bone had to be set twice and an X-ray picture taken before the injury was properly cared for. Very obviously, this hinders Mrs. Ford's work on debate. It has been suggested by several students that members of the debate squad suffer almost as many accidents as participants in several other major College activities.

DADS' DAY NOTES

Last Friday was, without a doubt, the most successful Dads' Day ever held in the history of the school. No small amount of the credit for the success of the occasion is, no doubt, due to Mr. Mehms, who was chairman of the Dads' Day committee. There were, however, a large number of students, faculty members, and others who contributed directly or indirectly to the successful outcome of the preparations.

L. E. Ziegler, Fred Lewis, and Dr. F. M. Ryan were among the business men who were either bona fide or acting dads Friday.

G. F. Hodgkinson, dad of Ted Hodgkinson, traveled the six hundred miles from El Reno, Oklahoma by car to be at the College for the Dads' Day activities. He left El Reno Wednesday evening.

Harry Haun, former Bearent who is now Superintendent of Schools at Graham, made a visit to St. T. C. Wednesday, October 16, in search of some colonial costumes for a school program which will be given at Graham soon. Harry seems to be able to keep the same old smile. He brought two of his high school boys to the College with him.

Over fifty of the Residence Hall girls spent the week-end at their homes.

Virgil McQuerry was at home over the week end.

'30 Tower Staff Now Approved by Junior Class

Rebekah Botkin, Editor-in-Chief—Orlo Smith, Business Manager—Now Busy Collecting Materials.

The staff for the 1930 Tower was approved at a meeting of the Junior class, held Tuesday, October 22. The staff was appointed several weeks ago, but, due to the difficulty of the Junior Class in arranging a meeting to officially approve it, the staff members have not been announced.

Rebekah Botkin, editor-in-chief, and Orlo Smith, business manager, who were elected from the junior class this fall to direct the work of publishing the Tower for 1930, have been busy arranging for the taking of pictures for cuts and collecting of student coupons.

All pictures for the Tower, the staff announces, should be taken by November 15, 1929. After that date, the price for Tower pictures will be two dollars instead of one, as it is at present.

There are four steps in the making of an annual. First, the pictures must be taken; then cuts must be made from the pictures and the engraving done. The third step involves the printing of the annual; and the fourth, the binding.

The work of taking and developing pictures is being done by the Crow and Marcell studios. The contract for the making of cuts and doing the engraving has been let to the Artcraft Engraving Company of St. Joseph. The printing and binding contract has not been let.

Students Present Play For A.A.U.W.

The cast of "The Florist's Shop" entertained the A. A. U. W. for Mrs. Edward V. Condon on Tuesday night, Oct. 22. The same group gave a program at the Myrtle Tree rural school the night of Oct. 17. In addition to their presentation of "The Florist's Shop," Cleola Dawson gave some solo dances.

Thursday, Oct. 31, at 8:00 p. m. the Dramatics Club will present the one-act play, "Miss Civilization" under the direction of Arrie Ann Freeland. "Miss Civilization" is a problem play dealing with a young girl's attempt to reform a number of crooks. The cast for the play is:

Alice..... Mildred Medsker
Hatch..... Wilbur Hookin
Harry..... Orville Kolim
Reddy..... Lester Kolim
Chief of police..... Wallace Culver

Freshmen Win From Seniors at Hockey

The Senior hockey team met the en-pable Freshmen team with a clash, Tuesday evening. Both teams fought hard, but were well matched, and at the end of the first half, neither side had scored. The game wore on until there was only a few minutes left to play and still there was no score. Then in the last minute of play, Faneher found the goal. The game ended with the score 1 to 0 in favor of the "not-so-green" Freshmen.

COLLEGE OATH
"We will never bring disgrace to this, our College by any act of cowardice or dishonesty. We will fight for the ideals and sacred things of the College. We will respect and obey the College laws and do our best to incite a like respect and reverence in others. We will transmit this College to those who come after us, greater, better and more beautiful than it was transmitted to us."

Thirteenth Chair Is Now Under Way

The Picture Play Magazine for November has a page of scenes from the talkie production which is now being made of "The Thirteenth Chair," the play which the Dramatics Club is to give on November 19.

Margaret Wyche who was the original Madame LaGrange of the stage play is being filmed in this same role.

The rehearsals of "The Thirteenth Chair" are well under way. Mr. Miller complimented the cast on the work they are doing. A high type of performance should be expected of the finished play since several of the cast have had a year of experience on the amateur stage in this College and elsewhere.

The juvenile lead is held by Betty Sealeman. Miss Sealeman is possibly the best known of the cast as she has appeared many times in Dramatic productions. The opposite of the juvenile lead is admirably played by Wilbur Pettigrew. He is appearing in a roll new to those who have seen him before. In the present production he portrays the young lover to perfection.

Mrs. Crosby, the charming middle-aged hostess, is well played by Grace Morris. Vance Geiger has the part of Roscoe Crosby, the likable New York business man.

The part of Edward Wales around whose mysterious death the plot centers is taken by Clinton Morris who has played many parts in Dramatic productions here.

The role of Mary Eastwood, a sophisticated young society woman is well interpreted by Ruth Floren. Helen Trent, the Crosby's daughter is played by Patricia Arnold, while her husband Braddish Trent is done by Marvin Shamberger. The part of Howard Standish, a young business man, is held by Ellsworth Henkins. Philip Mason, an artist and a guest in the Crosby home is portrayed by Wilby Poleson who took the role of Benediet in "Much Ado About Nothing," presented by the seniors of 1928. The extremely feminine young lady, Elizabeth Erskine, is charmingly played by Ann Adams, and the part of Grace Standish, another young society bud, is taken by Vivian Kamball. Richard Nelson as Pollock, the butler, and Morris Meyer as Sergeant Dunn play their parts well.

Carl Leroy Fisher was well chosen for the part of the detective, Tim Donahue. This versatile actor has pleased many S. T. C. audiences in a variety of roles.

The real lead of the play, Madame LaGrange, the Irish medium, is delightfully done by Kable Ford. This difficult part is played with real sympathy and understanding.

A. H. Cooper Will Lecture in Omaha

Mr. Bert Cooper, acting head of the Education Department of the College, will appear on the Nebraska State Teachers Association Divisional programs at Holdrege, Nebraska on October 31, and at Omaha on November 1. Mr. Cooper will give one lecture at Holdrege and two lectures at Omaha. The lectures will concern Vitalized Agriculture.

Mr. Cooper's picture appears with the pictures of other convention speakers in "The Nebraska Educational Journal" for October 1929.

The Journal carries the following statement concerning him:

Mr. Cooper is well known in Nebraska for his work in Vitalized Agriculture with county superintendents and rural teachers. He was secured on special request of county superintendents in District Number 2. Under his instruction and leadership, the idea of Vitalized Agriculture is being made known to the teachers and county superintendents, and the work is making rapid progress.

Among the dads was F. H. Barbee, Superintendent of Schools at St. Joseph. Mr. Barbee is the father of Fred Barbee, a student at the College.

Tri Sigs Give Clever Party for Alpha Sigs

The pledges of the Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority enjoyed a "date" party given by the pledges of the Sigma Sigma Sorority on Monday evening, October 21.

The Tri Sigma pledges, dressed as collegiate young men, called for their "Dates" and took them to the reading room at the College.

There they found the reading room changed into a miniature cabaret; davenport and small tables lined the wall. Autumn leaves were used on the windows and as light shades.

Soon after the guests arrived, dance programs in the form of date palm trees tied with red and white ribbons were given out.

Both a "kiss" dance and a "date" dance were given, during which trays of stuffed dates and kisses wrapped in red paper were passed.

Ruth Fields and Maude Ella LaMar furnished the music. During the serving, Velma Dowis sang several selections and Hermone Baur gave several specialty dances.

The refreshments consisted of dates rolled with whipped cream and coffee. Those who assisted in serving were: Geraldine Hunt, Verna Houghton, Grace Gallatin, Georgia Ellen Trusty, and Margaret Lindley.

Those present were: Katherine Gray, Clara Mae Shartzor, Lois McNary, Marian Gann, Ruth Cook, Mary Kurtz, Loraine Harris, Vivian Kimball, Annamie Adams, Mary Margaret James, Vashli Conn, Margaret Sutton, Betty Hickernell, Virginia Myers, Alberta Kunkel, Eunice Cox, Velma Dowis, Caroline Hefley, Maude Ella LaMar, Mildred Jacobs, Minnieetta Knox, Estelle Campbell, Carmen Jenkins, Hermone Baur, Esther McMurry, Rebecca Botkin, Hazel Moore, Mary Alice Jones, Enyo Bogard, and Constance Baur.

Sigma Tau Pledges Sixteen for Chapter

The Sigma Tau Gamma Fraternity has pledged sixteen men to the Theta chapter this quarter. They are: Daniel Blood, Stanberry; Wendell Culp, Ridgeway; Rusty Sellers, Maryville; Nick Stilwell, Maryville; Roland Russell, Maryville; Robert Wray, Maryville; MacDonald Egdon, Sedalia; Herman Fischer, Sedalia; Walter Wilson, Sedalia; Leslie N. Bricken, Sedalia; Eugene Minnick, Lock Springs; Earl Limpp, Mound City; Virgil McQuerry, Bethany; LeRoy Woods, Maryville; John Rueker, Savannah; Fort Sandison, Maryville; J. Norval Snyder, Hopkins. Several of the Sigma Tau

parents were at the house Friday evening after the game. Most of them stayed for the special dinner given them by the Fraternity.

The chapter is planning on having a dance some time in the near future.

The Stroller

By I I I I.

Oh! Hello Everyone, Sure and I remember every last one of you.

They say people can go home when they can't go anywhere else. It that's the case, there must be a lot of teachers with no place to go from the looks of this home-coming crowd. And the Stroller joins his small voice and sturdy handshake in the great welcome that is extended to the teachers, alumni, and visitors.

The Stroller hates to change the subject so quickly, but he just has to tell how good Mary Frances Clements used to be at T. L's. Once she gave her brother a perfectly lovely trade-last, and he told her she had a cute indignation.

There's talk of a back-to-the-farm movement in Maryville with the new milk plant and all. Smitty thought that he ought to do his part so he tried his hand at milking a cow. The Stroller understands that Orlo is now trying to get the Student Council to sponsor a series of cow-milking lessons. He thinks he might give lessons—if someone will furnish the cows.

Since he is six hundred miles from home, Ted Hodgkinson doesn't get a chance to enjoy the advantages of his father's presence very often. So, dad and son decided to room together while the former was in Maryville for Dads' Day. When Mr. Hodgkinson went to bed Friday night to get a little rest after his long trip, he put his trousers and his watch and pocketbook under his pillow for safe-keeping and went to sleep. Along towards morning, he awakened to find his pillow, trousers, and purse under his son's head. But the Stroller doesn't blame Ted for taking advantage of his opportunities. Dads' Day just comes once a year.

Now it is the Stroller's policy to cover all the news on his strolls about the campus. But occasionally, he will miss something. There was one thing along at the first of school, he was planning to set Coach Iba right about, but he just never got around to it. Not that it wasn't the coach's fault because he couldn't tell by the catalog numbers whether they were men's or women's gym classes. And several freshmen didn't seem to mind which section they got into. But what the Stroller wonders is, did educators intend that co-education be extended to gym classes. But anyway, it is all fixed up now, even if the Stroller did neglect his duty a little.

Came out—Stroller had to go up on 3rd floor and see how alumni association Homecoming Dinner frolic was progressing.

In Yes, it came off slick as a wig, and Mr. Mehls didn't have to forfeit his bond either.

The Stroller advises that everyone bring his sled to school nowadays, cause it feels just like "rabbit hunting weather" and that means snow.

People are beginning to wonder what week is coming next. Awhile back it was Exam Week. Last week was Dads' Week and now the "M" Club boys have labeled this one "Hell" Week, and while there are some people about the campus more dead than alive who think the week has been rightly designated by the boys, yet they wonder what is going to happen when those football boys will get so dinged over heating the Bears that they will go around carrying a football with them and such other regalia and decorations such as huge paddles on strings, around their necks.

The Stroller also wonders what havoc the hard times will bring about before spring, at the present rate at which the girls at Residence Hall and other places in town are compelled to borrow clothes.

Jerusalem!! Here comes St. Benedict's—Come along everyone. Let's take 'em. Orders from headquarters are: 500 out for Mother's day; 5,000 out for Kirksville game; and in the meantime to gently beat Warrensburg if possible.

Rah! Rah! Team!! the Bears Have Gone

It all came out all right in the rain for as the final whistle blew, the Bears, fighting for the Green and White, against the invading maroon and white, came dragging a 7-0 score off the muddy field, amid the cheers and husky commendations of fellow students, dads, mothers, and loyal Bearcat fans.

Suddenly the dusk of the evening was made brighter and smiles on the faces of those pouring out of the stand grew broader as flares from the oration of Professor T. H. Cook's famous black hat rose near the north side of the football field. Mr. Cook had made good his promise; the Bearcats had defeated the Bears and there was nothing for him to do but keep his promise and burr his black hat. However he seemed not the least bit sad to part company with his headgear.

President Lankin expressed it well when, upon his return to the College, he said: "From what I got of the results, 'Dads' Day' must have been a huge success." He added further, "I don't know whether it was because the Bears were defeated, or whether it was just the fact that so many Dads were here."

President Lankin was right: "Dads' Day" was a huge success. From the time of the pep meeting on Thursday night before the game until the final whistle, which announced the defeat of the Springfield Bears, enthusiasm ran high in the minds and hearts of the students as shown by activities and by the many expressions heard of a sincere desire to win the game.

During the first half of the game, Springfield outplayed the Bearcats and threatened twice to score, but the Bears fought on and a score was not chalked up. In the second half, the Bears rallied with their attack and with a series of clever forward passes, end runs, and smashing off-tackle plays they approached the Bears' goal line, and after a series of line smashes, Flacher went across the line for the first and only touchdown of the game. The extra point was added by a place kick and after a very few more minutes of play, the game ended—score, Maryville 7, Springfield 0. The game will be given play by play in another issue.

Reserves Win From Clarinda 7 to 6

The "Skunks," College reserve football team, defeated the Clarinda Junior College team 7 to 6 in a preliminary to the Springfield game on Dads' Day.

The Reserves' touchdown was made by Parker, fullback, on straight football. Clarinda scored in the final quarter as a result of a series of forward passes. The attempt for extra point by means of a pass failed, thus losing the game for Clarinda.

The Maryville lineup in the Clarinda game was as follows: quarterback, E. Barnes; fullback, W. Parker; half-backs Mitchell and M. Baker; center, M. Search; guards, Bricken and Dunham; tackles, Glover and Dowell; ends, Perkins and R. Burns. Catterson substituted at end and Hindman at guard.

"STUDENT IDEALS—KINDNESS"

Tuesday afternoon in Social Hall, the Y. W. C. A. held its regular weekly meeting. The devotional lesson was read by Margaret Conner. Violette Hunter conducted the third of a series of meetings on the theme "Student Ideals." The sub-theme of the meeting was "Kindness." Following the meeting there was a short get-acquainted period at which time the old members welcomed the new Y. Girls.

Bearcats Meet St. Benedicts Friday

When the Bearcats meet St. Benedict's College, of Atchison, Kansas, in the Homecoming game on the College field Friday afternoon, October 25, they will meet a team which, two years ago, defeated them at Atchison by a 6-0 score.

St. Benedict's was defeated by Peru Teachers 26-0 earlier this season, but on the other hand, the Springfield Bears were able to win from St. Benedict's by the margin of point after touchdown, 7-0.

Both Coach Davis and Coach Iba have seen St. Benedict's play and report that they have a good team and will furnish plenty of opposition for the Bearcats.

Bob Schmidt is the St. Benedict's coach. This is his second year at Atchison. His team is said to be composed of a line averaging over 180 pounds and a back field with much playing experience.

The Bearcats have been training hard this week and working on St. Bene-diet's plays. A large Homecoming crowd is expected to witness the game.

Elsewhere in this paper will be found a list of the St. Benedict's players with their age, weight, position and playing experience.

Bearcat Basketball Activity Is Started

Basketball practice for those who are not out for football started some two weeks ago under the direction of Coach Iba. About fifteen men are working out each evening at the gymnasium.

Three practice games are being planned by Coach Iba before the Christmas holidays. The first game will probably be with Junior College of St. Joseph. Two other games will be scheduled with two teams in the Missouri College Athletic Union, possibly William Jewell or Central College.

After the holidays, the coach plans to take his team on a trip for about six games with teams in Oklahoma. This trip is to be finished in time for the opening of the conference basketball season with the Cape Girardeau Indians on the Maryville court, January 10 and 11.

Among those who are now out for regular practice are Captain Howard Iba; a three year man and brother of the coach; Riley Davison, a member of the 1928 Bearcat team; Clarence Iba, a one-year letterman, and another brother of Coach Iba; Raymond "Curly" McKee, who has had some experience with the Bearcats; Ernest Ellis, who was an all-state guard on the 1925 Bearcat team; K. Swinford, who though not enrolled in the College this quarter, will be in school during the winter term; Merle Taylor, Jack McCracken, and Elmo Wright, all of whom played on Coach Iba's Classen High School team of Oklahoma City, runner-up in the national tournament at Chicago. Charles Finley of Rosendale, Donald Johnson of Pickering, Lowell Bowen of Bolckow, George Manes of Burlington Junction, and Persinger of McFall are also reporting each evening for practice.

N. W. MISSOURIAN CIRCULATION

The Northwest Missourian now goes to thirty-four states and the District of Columbia according to a recent check on the circulation. This is an increase of twelve states over the circulation as announced in the issue of September 26.

In addition to these, two copies of the weekly paper are sent to Hawaii and one to Saskatchewan, Canada. Nearly forty papers are sent to Iowa alone. The other states into which the paper is sent include New Mexico, Washington, California, Idaho, Oklahoma, Wisconsin, Wyoming, Colorado, Oregon, Arkansas, District of Columbia, New York, Texas, Louisiana, Florida, Michigan, and Utah.

Clyde Farquhar accompanied his father home Friday evening after the Dads' Day activities to spend the week-end at his home near Burlington Junction.
